

Please Join Us
for

Our 7th Annual

POETRY FESTIVAL!

MoSt POETRY

Modesto-Stanislaus
Poetry Center

featuring our ever-popular

Workshop, Luncheon and Poetry Contest!

with Special Guest Poet, Author & Workshop Leader...

Indigo Moor, Sacramento's Poet Laureate, is also a scriptwriter and published author. His first book of poetry, Tap-Root, was featured as part of Main Street Rag's "Editor's Select Poetry Series." His second book, Through the Stonecutter's Window, won Northwestern University Press' Cave Canem Prize. His 2017 release, In the Room of Thirsts & Hungers, is also an Editor's Select choice.

Three of Indigo's short plays debuted at the 60 Million Plus Theater's Spring Playwrights' Festival. His full-length stageplay, Live! at the Excelsior, has been optioned for a film.

Indigo teaches at Stonecoast University's Master of Fine Arts program, where he graduated in 2012 with his own MFA degree in poetry, fiction and scriptwriting. An advisory board member for the Sacramento Poetry Center, he is also a Cave Canem Fellow, the resident artist at Sacramento's "916 ink" children's program, and a graduate member of the Artist's Residency Institute for Teaching Artists.

Cost: General $35; MoSt Members $30; HS/College Students $10.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 2019

9:30 am* to 4:00 pm

St. Paul's Episcopal Church

1528 Oakdale Road, Modesto

*Participants are encouraged to pre-register, but may register at the door. Doors open 9 am.

For questions about the Festival, please email info@mostpoetry.org. For questions concerning the poetry contest, please email Karen Hansis Baker at rkb2516@gmail.com.